

Coolbaugh Township Awaits Offers To Develop 'New Town'

First Phase Plans Studied By Investors

Within the next week Coolbaugh township supervisors will receive final offers from investors interested in building the first unit of the proposed "New Town" development which will allow ample time to bring under construction housing, water works and sewage in Tobyhanna by next summer, Stroudsburg Rotary club members were told yesterday.

Clifton E. Rodgers, planning consultant, said in an address heard by Rotarians and the radio audience of WVPO, that investors are now at work on the financial details of the project. Mr. Rodgers was presented by H. G. Heller, Rotary program chairman for October.

"In a week or so these details will be completed by investors and offered to the supervisors of Coolbaugh township," Mr. Rodgers said. "That will allow ample time through the winter months to prepare for construction of the new town facilities, including homes, streets, shopping center and all other normal facilities of a modern town," he added.

Mr. Rodgers said the Army had advised him, his staff, and his clients, the Coolbaugh township supervisors that they will need from 500 to 800 homes by about July, 1952 when the Civil Service labor retraining program for Tobyhanna, site of a $33,000,000 Signal Corps depot, will be well under way.

Guests at the meeting were Irvin C. Foster, secretary of the board of supervisors and Attorney George T. Robinson, solicitor for the supervisors.

Mr. Rodgers emphasized that he and his staff conducted the business of city planning strictly from the free enterprise standpoint. Most city planners, because they work on staffs of big cities, do not operate strictly on such a basis.

Operating throughout Pennsylvania, Rodgers said his firm has offices in Beaver Falls, where he is a Rotarian and in Harrisburg where the firm is currently doing city planning for the state and city on Capitol Park, highway and slum clearance projects.

He said in planning philosophy he favors both the philosophies of Robert Moses . . . get things done . . . and that of Louise Mumford . . . basic community planning involves community participation down to the families.

The planner, like the doctor, first makes a diagnosis of a community, he noted, he prescribes a course of treatment. Largely, however, city planning and its execution is a matter of public education so that community participation is achieved, Mr. Rodgers emphasized.

"Cities and towns are not built by government but by people and business, and the longer we retain philosophy and practice the better off we'll be," he advised.

In most cases, he said, the planner is no sooner in a community, particularly one without major financial resources, than some people begin to ask "what can we get out of the Pork Barrel . . . out of Washington."

In Tobyhanna, he said, there is represented an opportunity "to develop a modern and orderly town as such as you'd like to live in here or anywhere else."

"I wish to emphasize we have no idea of suggesting a change in name simply because we call the project the 'new town development,'" Mr. Rodgers said.

The consultant said in order to meet housing demands for 3,500 Civil Service workers . . . the number the Army has advised will work at the depot, the plan was developed. Tobyhanna's depot, he said, will be one of the largest in the nation. It is intended to be permanent, he said, but added that everybody knows that can change by an act of Congress. In the event Signal Corps should leave, Rodgers said everybody is sure some other branch of the service will move in, or in the event no service branch would want it, private enterprise would swiftly move since the buildings will be adaptable for many phases of private industry.

"One week after our plan was out, investors from New York and Philadelphia appeared and wanted to move in and finance and build the town," Mr. Rodgers disclosed. "That showed our market analysis was sound and the course of free enterprise which we adopted was successful," he emphasized. He added that war time employment at the depot will run to five million (Continued on page five)

Duck Season Opens Today; Prospects Appear Excellent

Rain or shine, today promises to be a bad day—for ducks. Duck hunting season opens today at noon in the Pocono area with game protectors predicting a heavy kill for the season. Legal shooting begins at noon and ends tonight one hour before sunset. On subsequent days hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset.

Limit for hunters is four ducks per day with no more than one wood duck permitted in each day's kill. The season is five days longer than last year.

Also on the legal quarry list starting today will be Brant, American and red-breasted Mergansers.

Since wildowl seasons are controlled by the Federal Fish and Wildlife service, special Federal migratory bird-hunting stamps must be displayed by all hunters over 16 years of age.

Daily bag limits for each division follow: Ducks—four daily with one wood duck. Two days' bag as possession limit. Brant—Oct. 12-20 only—three daily; three possession limit. Geese—daily bag limit two; possession limit, two.

According to local game protectors John Doebing in Stroudsburg and Paul Failor in Mount Pocono, the outlook for this year's season is excellent.

The season closes November 21.

A Newspaper's Constant Obligation

Last week it was the privilege of the writer to gather together a forum of local men who discussed freedom of the press and gave their views regarding the future of the newspaper. In this forum were an educator, a business man and a minister. An executive of the Stroudsburg school system was the moderator. The audience was the regular Wednesday noon meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

Many who heard the speakers complimented the writer and the speakers themselves for the excellence of the program. The compliments for the speakers were well deserved.

But all this talk throughout the country during newspaper week about freedoms rather piles up around you. The salutes, the tributes, the adulation scintillates about—then falls flat in the light of reality.

That America's press is free—that Americans are free to read—is undeniable.

But—the opinion of the Editor of the Publishers Auxiliary, a nationally known newspaper circulating among the newspapers of the country—is somewhat startling. He said, in a recent editorial:—

"That America and its press will remain free is a serious doubt."

K. A. Engle, publisher of the Arkansas Democrat in Little Rock and retiring president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, called the turn last week when he observed there are two threats to newspaper independence:

1. Economic conditions.

2. Secrecy.

If the authority carried by the words of this successful, small daily publisher is not enough consider the words of Allen Raymond, one-time Tokyo bureau chief for the New York Herald Tribune.

Mr. Raymond lists four major methods by which the public's right to information is violated:—

1. The practice of holding legislative, court and board meetings in secret.

2. The increasing control of information by use of press releases, government handouts and gags on underlings.

3. The sealing, impounding or failure to keep records of public concern.

4. The extension of the military into fields having little or no bearing upon the national safety.

"It is well to remember," the editor of the Publishers Auxiliary warns, "that an editorial glorifying freedom of the press will not guarantee freedom of the press."

"What will?" he asks, and then answers his own question.

"1. Attendance of the city council meeting by reporters when the mayor and his aldermen would prefer they stay away."

"2. Refusal of editors to bow to any guidance except their good consciences as to what is right for the people."

Editorial writers are becoming more aware and, as a result, more incensed at previously prepared "hand-outs" written as administrative politicians want them published.

News editors who control the newspaper "assignment book" are assailing more and more through their papers the increasing practice of secret sessions of municipal, state and national elected servants of the people.

It is axiomatic that if newspapers and personal freedoms survive, more and more vigilance—more and more bringing out in the open the matters of government in all its departments to which the people are entitled to know—must be carried on by the newspapers and other publications which deal in public information.

Keeping the public informed is a full time job for all printed media. We in the newspaper field should resolve right now to be more vigilant and militant, if necessary, than ever before.

Howard Lindsay, the playwright, is punctilious about his business engagements but on the forgetful side when it comes to social functions. He has been known to wander off from one of his own dinner parties for a brief nap and then forget to come downstairs again.

Names of friends and acquaintances frequently elude him. When in doubt he calls everybody Mayes, whom he hails as Jerry. For years he engaged in a bitter feud with an actor who had let him down and wouldn't stay in the same room with him when they accidentally met at a party. Then one night Lindsay's wife, Dorothy Stickney, was amazed to find him in close and harmonious conversation with the actor at the other end of a Hollywood soiree. The conference ended in a burst of laughter, and Lindsay clapped the actor on the back. "I wonder what caused Howard to forgive him?" thought Mrs. Lindsay. At this moment Lindsay whispered hoarsely in her ear, "Who was that fellow you just was talking to, anyhow?"

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Case of Harold Stassen. Harold Stassen was appointed by the State department to serve on the American delegation at the San Francisco conference, which was managed by Alger Hiss. Stassen was a strong supporter of the bipartisan foreign policy to which Senator Vandenberg devoted the last years of his life. Otherwise, he would not have been acceptable for this position.

Stassen had been governor of Minnesota and on Admiral Halsey's staff in the Pacific during the war. More than any other Republican, his appeal was to youth. When he was invited to attend the secret State department conferences in October, 1949, to discuss the China policy, he was no tyro. The personnel of that conference was such that 17 out of 23 persons attending were drawn from the Institute of Pacific Relations. Stassen could not have represented the Republican party; he was there in his own right as a citizen of considerable experience.

The State department cannot smear Harold Stassen as, for instance, they smear Joe McCarthy because Stassen's career does not lend itself to that kind of attack. If anything, he was weakened his political prospects by too constant a support of the administration's position in foreign affairs. Therefore, they accuse him of faulty memory with the implication of falsehood.

Particularly on the subject of withholding supplies from the Chinese Nationalists do they totally deny Stassen's statements. He has challenged them to produce documents which he claims will corroborate his position in the diaries of Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Secretary of Defense James Forrestal. He has apparently forgotten that his general statements have already been fully substantiated by testimony before the Russell committee investigating the dismissal of General MacArthur. Louis Johnson, secretary of defense at the time (1949), testified:

"Senator Green. Now, in answer to one other question that was asked you, you were asked did the administration continue to give support to the Nationalist government, and you hesitated and then said they did not give support, but did they give (sic) any opposition?"

"Mr. Johnson. Yes, sir."

"Senator Green. Active opposition?"

"Mr. Johnson. I don't know what you mean by 'active' quite, but there were efforts from my office at the instance of the military, of the defense department, to speed up the doing of the things they wanted to do in the line of acquisition and material that it seemed they were asked to get, and without being able to give you details, the definite feeling I had, there was a dragging of feet, an effort to delay."

Vice-Admiral Oscar C. Badger also testified:

"To make a long story short, nothing happened. Questions as to even the prices, what it was going to cost those people (Chiang Kai-Shek), were not forthcoming, and remembering that that was approved by the joint chiefs, had the authority of the act of congress and had the approval of the President, a period of 5 months went by before we could actually get any action."

"Senator Hickenlooper. Action where?"

"Admiral Badger. Action toward the shipment or knowledge of what was going to come, and you can't build a house, you can't fight a campaign unless you know what is coming and when it is coming, and therefore all the planning, the whole thing was stopped."

Admiral Badger testified concerning one shipment:

"... I received word that a ship was entering, was about to go into Tientsin and it had about 10 percent of this shipment that we had recommended on board. I said, 'well, that's pretty bad. It's too bad that it isn't the full business, but maybe it will still have a morale effect' ..."

General Fu Tso-Yi, who was holding out against the Communists, assuming that American aid would come, reported to Admiral Badger:

"The above-mentioned weapons are not in good condition, and for the most part cannot be used. I do not know how or why these weapons were forwarded in an incomplete state."

The Admiral's conclusion is: "The result was that General Fu Tso-Yi, who had his back to the wall at that time at Tientsin and Peiping in effect had his generals say, 'is that what we have been waiting for?' and they collapsed within 2 days."

This collapse gave Peking (Peiping) to the Communists.

I could go on quoting substantiation of Harold Stassen's statement from the record, and may still do so if the situation warrants it. The record is enormous and all in one direction, except the testimony of General David G. Barr, who was as much opposed to Nationalist China as the State department.

Washington Report

By Fulton Lewis Jr.

Washington, October 11 — A conservative party victory in British elections this month would have small effect on that nation's drift toward total socialism. It would, in fact, do little more than pave the way for a visit to the United States by Winston Churchill for the purpose of extracting more dollars from the U. S. treasury.

British conservatives have either adopted the labor government's social experiments or have been unable to discover a formula to unscramble the tragic ventures into the realm of Marx and Lenin. In fact, Winston Churchill has already proclaimed, in pre-election speeches, that his first act will be to impose a higher excess profits tax. If so, he will continue the delusion, imprinted on the political thinking of the British people by the Labor Government, that confiscatory taxes on industry and the well-to-do could and would pay for deficits created by socialist schemes.

The present British tax system has taken all of the wealth and venture capital from individuals and businesses that in the past created earnings to offset a chronic trade deficit. It is no secret

Limb Warns Against Ending War Along Present Battlefront

Chief Korean U. N. Delegate Cites Dangers

America dare not end the Korean war along present battle lines, Col. Ben C. Limb said in Stroudsburg yesterday.

It would lead to later loss of both Korea and Asia, he claimed.

Even as the chief of the Korean mission to the United Nations spoke to Dutch Treat club members at the Penn-Stroud hotel, wire services carried the latest stories on resumption of cease-fire talks.

If an armistice were concluded, an artificial line again would divide Korea in half.

"This cannot be," Col. Limb said. "Can you cut a dog in half and expect it to live?"

The American-educated former Korean foreign minister said America for her own protection must fight clear to the Yalu river border, must re-unite all Korea.

Otherwise the sacrifice of "more than 80,000 Americans, 160,000 Korean soldiers and two million civilians will have been without purpose."

If the war ends in the middle of Korea it means the Communists have won, he said.

"The war is like a football game played before a billion of spectators—the people of Asia," said Col. Limb.

"In the third quarter of a football game with the ball in mid-field, do you say, 'I don't feel like playing anymore. Never mind winning. Let's go home?'"

All powers bent on world conquest—including Russia, he said, have a timetable.

Each step in the timetable strengthens the power enough to make the next step, he said. It was the pattern followed by Japan, he pointed out: first Korea, then Manchuria, southeast China, the Pacific islands and finally—America.

The Russian timetable, Col. Limb said, calls for winning China—then Korea, Formosa, Japan, French Indo-China, all of Asia, and finally—America.

"The war will come to your shores," he said, "if each step is not prevented."

He called for an American timetable in reverse—to progressively weaken Russia's hold on Asia.

One—Korea must be restored to the West. Reds must be driven back across the Yalu.

Two—Military force ultimately must be used to liberate China's half billion people from the Communists.

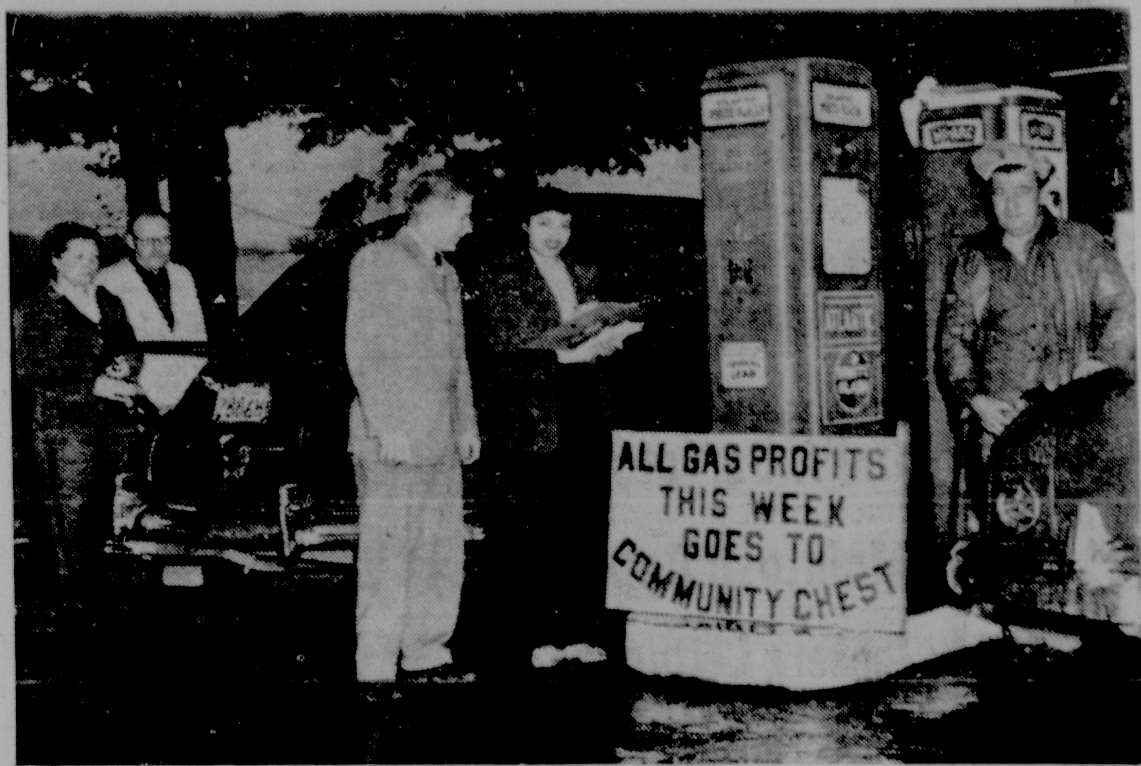

Col. Limb said he didn't think a Chinese war of liberation would be as costly in the long run as letting the Russians proceed with the timetable of world conquest.

"The Chinese people are your friends. They are held prisoner by the Communists. It is like you or your family being captured and made to do the bidding of gangsters. That does not make you a gangster; you will try to escape."

"The French general down there (in Indo-China)—he knows it is all part of the same war. That is why he begged America, 'win the war in Korea—if you don't we'll be next.'"

Despite staggering destruction and loss of life in Korea, Col. Limb says the Koreans don't want to quit now. They want to struggle on until the nation is whole again.

Last year the deceptively young-looking colonel, who spent 30 years as secretary to South Korean's President Syngman Rhee, toured the war front on a personal inspection.

"We have figures on Army casualties. Civilian casualties we can only estimate. Millions . . . millions . . . They died like flies under the DDT. The babies, on their mothers' backs, in the gold. The old people, walking, walking . . . walking to nowhere and dying on the way."

"This we accept, because there is no other way to make Korea free and whole again. We are grateful to American soldiers who came to defend our country."

"A year ago, that electrified the world. The billion people of Asia looked at each other and said 'This is something—this big fellow American fighting for this small-ry Korea . . .'"

"Asia is still watching. When she is sure she will not be left to defeat, she will join the fight for her own liberation."

"That is why I think America should not stop until she has won completely in Korea. It will keep war from coming to the shores of America."

EAST STROUDSBURG firemen are shown killing the second, of two fires that ruined the back seat of a Philadelphia car. Blaze was blamed on a cigaret.

Blaze In Auto Seat Calls Two Companies Into Service

Marshall's Creek—When James J. Ahern, Philadelphia, gave himself a hot seat yesterday, he naturally came to the fire house here to do something about it.

Ahern was motoring on Route 402 when he discovered the fire—on the rear seat of his auto.

He had flicked a cigaret out the window. It apparently had curved back in and set fire to the cushions.

Ahern drove his smoldering seat into the fire house at 12:30 a. m., got out of the car, pulled on the alarm box and waited for firemen to arrive.

They did watered down Ahern's seat thoroughly, then replaced it in his car.

The insurance salesman drove on toward Stroudsburg.

At 2:20 a. m. 18 East Stroudsburg volunteer firemen were yanked from bed by an alarm sent from Box 214 on the corner near the fire house.

When the crew arrived, it was

Two Injured In Accidents

Two persons were hospitalized in East Stroudsburg yesterday for injuries resulting from two separate accidents in the vicinity of Delaware Water Gap.

Details on the accidents were not available last night.

Firemen Give Demonstration

Marshall's Creek—Pupils at the Smithfield and Middle Smithfield Consolidated schools yesterday were treated to a fire-fighting demonstration.

Students marched out in a practice fire drill, found real fire trucks from Marshall's Creek and Shawnee ready for action.

Firemen raised their 50-foot ladders, shot water onto the school roofs from their booster tanks, to show pupils how they'd handle a school blaze.

Business News In Monroe Area

Web Heller, proprietor of Heller's garage, announces the removal of his business to the new location at Ann and Williams Sts., Stroudsburg.

Mr. Heller has erected a new modern building on the site. The plant has been designed for the complete servicing of all makes of automobiles. Special equipment has been installed for auto ignition and carburetor work. An electric welding and blacksmith department have also been included in the new establishment.

Marshall Myer and Harold O'Brien of Milford, Pa., were the builders.

Shoppers going up and down Stroudsburg's Main St. this week were surprised to see a new and different sign hanging in front of the entrance to the Lowry Photography Studios.

A sign that had been a familiar Main St. trademark in Stroudsburg for over 30 years had disappeared. In its place was a new one. It proclaimed: Lowry-Martin Studios.

The two young photographers—and former competitors—announced their merger this week. Wilbur Lynn Martin, who came to the Stroudsburgs over five years ago, until recently operated his own studios on Washington St., East Stroudsburg.

The other half of the partnership, Joseph Lowry, assumed management of the Lowry Studios after his father, the late Glen Lowry, died suddenly last year.

A report on current trends by the Federal Reserve Bank in the Third District, serving this region, notes that commercial and financial activity in the district continued at a high pitch in recent weeks. A slight expansionary trend was discernable although some segments of the economy failed to show improvement over the preceding month, the bank said.

Manufacturers increased employment for the first time in four months. Rise was in durable good industries and was attributed in part to a pick-up of activity after vacation shutdowns in July. Consumer buying, the bank reports, continued to be conservative in light of the record level of personal income. Department store sales rose during the month, but they did not top those of August 1950.

The Federal Reserve said value of construction contract awards declined sharply in August following a rather substantial increase in July. A falling off in nonresidential awards was responsible for the change.

Business loans in the district, the bank said, continued to rise, but at slower pace than last year. Real estate and consumer loans showed no change.

The National Association of Home Builders said yesterday the estimated average construction cost per unit, of aprivately owned home during the six months of 1951, was $8,875. Sixteen percent of all new homes started in the first six months of this year had a VA home loan, and 66 percent of all new homes purchased in the first half of 1951 with a VA home loan sold for under $10,000. ## C. Of C. Considers Placing Past Presidents On Board Of Directors For Lifetime

A proposed amendment to the by-laws of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce may result in the establishment of an honorary lifetime chair for past presidents of the organization.

The amendment will be under discussion at a meeting of the Board of Directors October 15 at 12:15 p. m. in the Penn-Stroud hotel.

Currently the board consists of 10 members representing the entire area with elections each year for half of the members. Each member is elected for a two-year term in office. The proposed change will create a past president's honorary board membership chair with automatic membership for the lifetime of the individual.

Members of the board whose terms end in December of this year would be the first honored under the proposed system. Those included would be: Past Presidents Ernest H. Wyckoff, Howard L. Keiper, R. LeRoy Dengler, C. Raymond Bensinger and Roy M. Hauser.

J. Albert Groner, a former president of the organization and a current board member, would also be eligible for inclusion following the completion of his present term in December, 1952.

Gerald P. O'Neill, president, would also be eligible if not returned to his present office in December 1951 election.

Wayne Hospital Is Dedicated

Honesdale, (AP)—The new three-story Wayne County Memorial hospital was dedicated yesterday.

The dedication ceremonies for the $800,000, 60-room structure were held in the court house due to inclement weather.

Dr. J. William White, of Scranton, who was elected resident medical chief of staff, said the new hospital will contain facilities for the most advanced types of surgery. He predicted new frontiers will be opened in the field of medicine in the Honesdale area.

Practice FIRE PREVENTION

Prevent fires at home by keeping burnable materials away from open flames. Teach your family not to put magazines, papers or clothing on radiators. Don't hang flimsy curtains near your kitchen stove. Don't allow lamp shades to come in contact with light bulbs. Remember, such things don't have to touch flame to burn. They will catch fire simply because they are too close to the heat for too long. You can get additional training in home fire prevention through your local volunteer fire company.

Salvation Army To Send Six Young People To Conference

Six young people of the Salvation Army of the Stroudsburgs are participating in a Corps Cadet congress in New York City which commences tonight and closes on Sunday.

Fourteen hundred Corps Cadets will assemble from the 11 eastern states and will meet with General Osborn.

Corps Cadets are Salvation Army boys and girls who are taking prescribed correspondence courses over a period of six years.

Higher Grade Corps Cadets Clarence Hine, Margaret Sargent and Joyce Leap together with Lower Grade Corps Cadets Ramona and William Thek and Betty Sargent will journey to New York to take part in this big congress.

The group from the Stroudsburgs have been chosen to recite the scriptural portion at Saturday night's meeting, and the portion which is assigned to them is Psalm 119:1-16. The young people have memorized these 16 verses.

Two of the young people have been chosen to lead in discussions in the Saturday morning classes and group meetings. Margaret Sargent has been chosen to lead in a discussion on "Corps Cadets as Citizens," highlighting what a Corps Cadet can do to help in her community. Joyce Leap has been asked to lead a discussion on Corps Cadets as interior decorators, how to beautify the building and grounds of the local Salvation Army.

The group will take part in a parade during their stay in New York City and will have some opportunity to see some points of interest as well.

Dr. W. E. Magann will be out of town from Oct. 16 to Oct. 18, inclusive.—Adv.

Fire Week Successful, Says Snover

A marked improvement over past years' performances during Fire Prevention week has been noted by Chairman Jay Snover of the County Fire Prevention committee.

Cooperation throughout the county has been extremely high this year, according to Snover.

In addition to pamphlets mailed to residents of individual areas describing the exact method for turning in a fire alarm in that vicinity, several other methods were used for the first time this year in an effort to indoctrinate citizens in the proper method of fire prevention and control.

One of the most unusual, and, in terms of psychological impact, one of the most effective, was the distribution of a one-minute trailer motion picture to commercial theaters throughout the area. This distribution was effected through the cooperation of the local motion picture operators' union.

The week's activities will be brought to a close with an inspection of the Monroe county home at 2 p. m. Saturday. All companies in the county will participate on invitation from the county commissioners.

Rains Drench Much Of State

Much of Pennsylvania, including the Pocono Mountains region, was soaked yesterday and nobody liked it very much but the farmer. Mr. Farmer loved it.

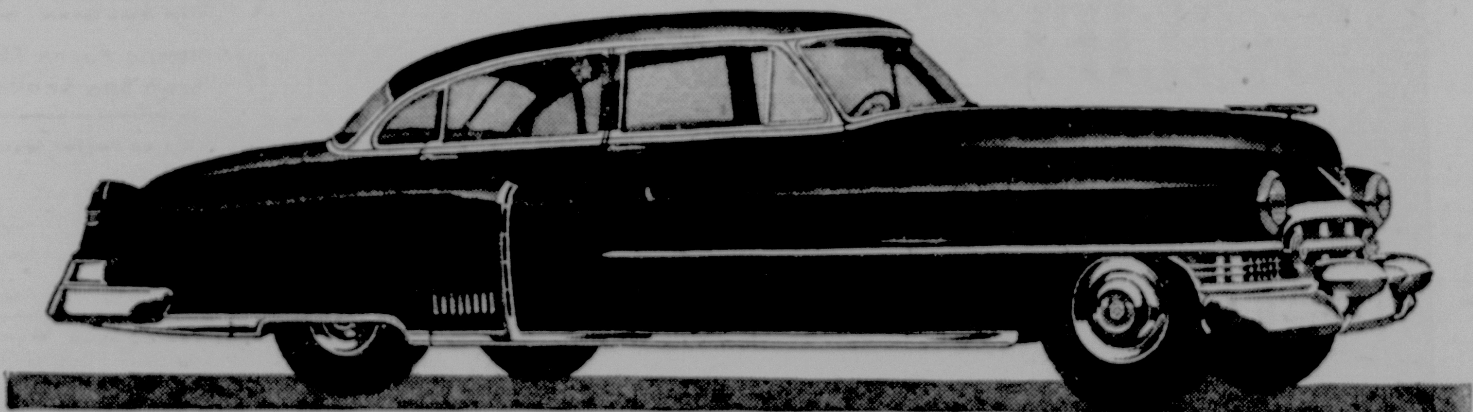

It was a slow rain that seeped into the ground. Henry Adams, weatherman at Philadelphia, said the rain was general east of Altoona.

"It will do the farmer a lot of good," he said. Allentown, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Scranton, Williamsport and the Altoona area got most of the rain, Adams said. He reported cloudy weather in the rest of the State.

The temperatures ranged from a low of 35 at Phillipsburg in Centre county to a high of 47 in Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Better Wait—Than Be Sorry!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

For the man or woman who wants a Cadillac, there is no satisfactory substitute in the whole wide world!

So, if your heart is set on sitting at the wheel of this great and distinguished motor car—let us talk with you frankly about the matter.

First of all, you should come in and place your order—just as soon as circumstances will permit.

There is now—as there has been for many years—a waiting list of wonderful people who wish to own this wonderful car. And the sooner your name joins this distinguished list—the sooner your hope will be realized.

And once your signature is on an order blank—hold firm to your purpose.

This may not be easy—for temptation is almost certain to assail you!

Cars without number may be had today—almost as soon as you agree to accept them. And, quite naturally, people who sell these available cars may ask you to shift your preference from Cadillac.

But, again, we urge you to hold firm—for the sake of your own welfare and your own satisfaction.

Remember—it's Cadillac you want.

Cadillac—with its universal and pride-inspiring recognition as the Standard of the World!

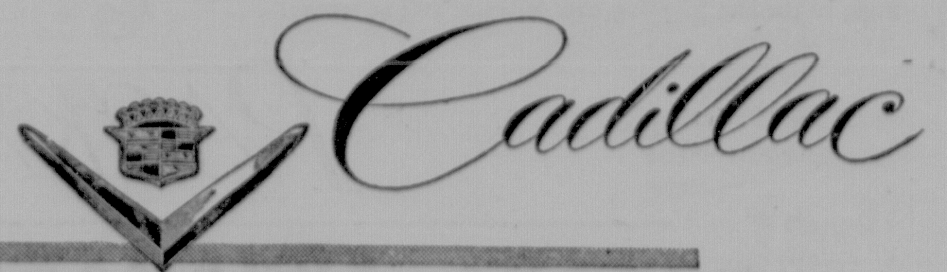

Cadillac—with such performance that owners actually think up excuses for taking to the highway!

Cadillac—with such amazing endurance that its full life-span has never yet been measured!

Cadillac—with economy so extraordinary that few cars, at any price, will run farther on a gallon of gasoline!

Yes—if you want a Cadillac, come in and order it. And then stand firm until you get it.

It's far, far better to wait—than be sorry. For, remember, there is nothing that can take its place.

Gardens For Winter Shown Club Members

Tannersville — Members of the Pocono Garden club learned how to take some of autumn's beauty indoors at their meeting held at the firehouse on Tuesday, October 9. Mrs. B. H. Granacher, president, opened the meeting with a poem entitled "Autumn."

"It's a Long, Long Winter" was the theme of the program with Mrs. Millard Rice and Mrs. Cora Smith, two active members of the club as speakers. They were introduced by Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr., and stressed ways in which members might bring gardens and the beauty of the woods into their homes to brighten the dreary days of the cold season.

Mrs. Rice illustrated her remarks with specimens of plants which can be transferred inside, and had many small pots of slips to be taken home by the members. One of her displays featured wooden plaques on which dried leaves, cones and berries had been mounted and then shellacked.

Mrs. Smith demonstrated the proper way to mount leaves in picture frames behind glass, gave suggestions for the assembling of terrariums and how to use leaf forms for textile paintings. Each speaker had a wealth of material to illustrate their suggestions.

There were 54 women present, and three women were welcomed as new members: Mrs. Mabel Storm and Mrs. John Sutton, of Mount Pocono, and Mrs. Alice Harrison of Cresco.

During the business meeting, the club voted to donate $25 to the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. A committee was named to plan the annual Christmas banquet with Mrs. Marjorie Canfield, Mrs. Frances Besecker and Mrs. Ruth Learn in charge.

Refreshments of pie, almonds and coffee were served with Mrs. Jack London as hostess chairman.

Clearview PTA Reports Progress

The Clearview PTA Teachers' association had plenty of news, and all of it good, at their meeting held this week in the school.

The hot lunch program, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Weber, is doing very well, it was reported with at least 230 pupils being served each day. More mothers were asked to volunteer to help serve the lunches, and they may make appointments to serve by calling Mrs. Weber at 2358-J.

Helping in the success of the lunch room has been the renovations Mothers met and gave it a thorough housecleaning. New linoleum and paint has brightened it, and a new electric range purchased by the school board has made preparation easier. The school board has donated $250 to the Clearview PTA to be used for improvement in the school program.

The PTA, itself, has launched a new venture—a Trading Post—where any good, clean, usable articles of clothing such as snow suits, coats, overcoats, dresses, etc., may be placed. These articles may be donated or sold on a 50-50 basis with half the proceeds going to the PTA. Mrs. Robert Hellmann and Mrs. Russell Imbitt Jr. are in charge of the new venture, further details of which will be announced later.

Plans were also made for a fallowen party to be held on Saturday night, October 27, in the school auditorium from 7:30 to 10. The public is invited.

Open House for Clearview is scheduled for Friday, November 16 from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. with further details to be announced later.

Robert Hellmann, president of the PTA, presided at the business meeting which was followed by a talk by Walter McClelland of Stroudsburg, who showed a film on the opportunities at Girard College, and discussed the Philadelphia school for orphan boys, or boys whose fathers have died, from 6 to 18 years of age. He explained that after 12 years have been accepted, boys are clothed, fed and housed until the completion of their education.

Raymond Harding, principal, explained the new report cards and marking system now in operation at the school.

He also announced that the school board has donated $300 for installing equipment for Biddy Basketball and other gymnasium equipment such as volley balls.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses of which Mrs. Ed Goodall was chairman, and which included Mrs. James Shiffer, Mrs. Franklin Rehm, Mrs. Edwin Buck and Mrs. Edward Steinmetz.

East Stroudsburg Clashes With Stroudsburg Tonight

Overflow Crowd To Witness Tilt

East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg High schools will clash on the gridiron for the seventh time tonight when the two arch rivals meet under the lights at Gordon Giffels field, at 8 p. m. before an overflow crowd. The home team currently holds all the chips, but the Cavaliers are hopeful of cashing in this time, for their first victory in the history of the "Battle of the Boroughs."

Stroudsburg has swept all six games played between the two schools thus far, with East Stroudsburg only able to score one touchdown in the entire series. However, this season East Stroudsburg takes its best record in history against the Mountaineers and is hopeful of landing its initial victory.

The Cavaliers have won two and lost the same number of games thus far this season. The charges of Coach Jack Kist lost to Slaton, 20-13, and Pen Argyl, 12-6, to open the campaign, then came back to defeat Bangor, 13-0, and Lehigh, 25-6. It is the best record held by any East Stroudsburg eleven since they took up the game seriously on N. Courtland St. Mountaineers.

Stroudsburg on the other hand has won one of four contests, taking the measure of Emmaus, 12-6, while bowing to Bangor, 6-0; Palmerton, 13-0 and Pen Argyl, 25-7. However, the victory over Emmaus was doubly impressive as the green and white clad team is very much in the running for the Lehigh Valley league title, although Palmerton is currently in the driver's seat.

The battle for the "Little Brown Jug" has found Stroudsburg winning in 1945, 42-0; 1946, 39-0; 1947, 34-6; 1948, 27-0; 1949, 6-0, and 1950, 13-0. The Mountaineers have scored 161 points to six for the Cavaliers.

Both coaches, Kist and Jerry Stulgaitis, report their charges in good physical and mental condition, with both sides eager for battle. The respective mentors also report their squads free of serious injury at the present time.

Both teams are expected to substitute freely in the battle, with about 20 men on each squad seeing action at one time or another.

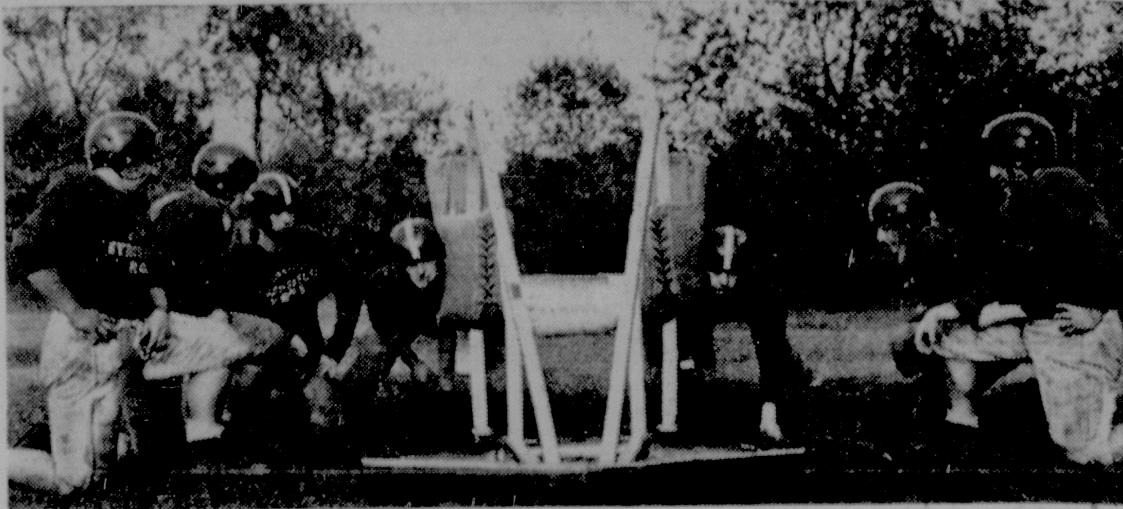

Each coach was cautious on the eve of the "big" game and had little to say. However, Kist did state that the team that made and took advantage of the breaks would come home the winner. The Eastburg coach also added, "It will take a good team to beat us this year."

Stulgaitis said, "If our club is up for the game it will be a terrific football battle."

Both schools took care of their pre-game "doings" yesterday and both have giant rallies scheduled for the school grounds today.

"However, if it should rain too hard today, it was learned last night that the game would be postponed until tomorrow night, at the same time.

Tickets for the event, at one dollar for adults and 35 cents for students, are still on sale and will also be sold at the gate. Stroudsburg fans may purchase their pastebards at Wyckoff-Sears, Flagler's Drug Store and DeVivo's Shoe Repair. East Stroudsburg supporters may obtain their tickets at Kresge's Drug Store and the Lantz store. Students may purchase their admission blanks at the respective schools.

Cavaliers Favored By Fans

East Stroudsburg High school's Cavaliers are strongly favored to win tonight's "Battle of the Boroughs" for the first time in the history of the gridiron series with Stroudsburg High, according to a poll conducted last night among followers of football from the respective boroughs.

The results of the poll follow:

L. J. Kleinle, Chief Burgess of East Stroudsburg—"East Stroudsburg will win this year. The present football team is the best in the history of the sport at the school."

Hal H. Harris, Chief Burgess of Stroudsburg—"Stroudsburg will continue its domination of the event because it has the best team."

Jake Nitel, 84 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg—"East Stroudsburg is my choice, as the Cavaliers have been playing good football all season and this game should be no exception."

Martin Buck, 1080 W. Main St., Stroudsburg—"I think Stroudsburg will win, as I expect to see the real Stroudsburg team for the first time this season."

Donald Heller, 133 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg—"The aggressiveness, speed, good blocking and tackling should win for East Stroudsburg. I'll settle for three touchdowns."

Clifford Heller, 609 Thomas St., Stroudsburg—"From accounts of previous games played by the two schools this year, I think East Stroudsburg will win over Stroudsburg."

Bill Weber, Stroudsburg, RD No. 2—"If Stroudsburg's line opens up the holes, the Mountaineers will win. Otherwise—look out!"

Richard Fable, 827 Scott St., Stroudsburg—"East Stroudsburg should win after its showing against Bangor and Lehigh."

Gordon L. Coy Jr., 277 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg—"East Stroudsburg is my choice, on the basis of comparative scores against Pen Argyl."

Augie Luckwith, 1227 Hamilton St., East Stroudsburg—"East Stroudsburg should win by from 13 to 18 points. After watching the teams in two games each, I believe the tricky handoff play of the Eastburg backfield and its strong line will break Stroudsburg's domination of the event."

Rudy Manheim, 59 S. Green St., East Stroudsburg—"Indications point to East Stroudsburg, but in a game of this type past records mean nothing. However, East Stroudsburg's superior speed should be the turning point."

Ralph "Pete" Arnold, 1039 Dresher Ave., Stroudsburg—"This appears to be East Stroudsburg's year. The spirit seems better."

Tom Carnella, 39 Gold St., East Stroudsburg—"East Stroudsburg by six points. Statistics give Cavaliers the edge."

Rocco Coco, 311 Main St., Stroudsburg—"Stroudsburg by seven points. Stroudsburg is a better team than it has shown this season."

Al Bachman, 1012 Main St., Stroudsburg—"East Stroudsburg will win. The Cavaliers are ready to win their first game in the series."

Each Squad To Present Five Seniors In Lineup

Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg football teams will be evenly more matched than on their football ability alone tonight, when they meet for the seventh time on the gridiron at Gordon Giffels field. Both high schools will send five seniors into action for the last time as far as the "Battle of the Boroughs" is concerned.

Both teams will be represented by five fourth-year men before the largest crowd in the history of the event tonight.

Alden "Red" Fetherman and Frank Armitage, co-captains of the Stroudsburg machine, will oppose East Stroudsburg for the final time. Both have been mainstays on the team for the past three years. Fetherman is one of the best backs in the history of the school and Armitage is a hard playing guard.

Don Stone and Dan Berman, first and second string centers, will also be in there for the final time against the Cavaliers, as will Ted "Brooklyn" Stevens, a substitute halfback.

Captain Marlin "Ducky" Martz, hard running East Stroudsburg back, will lead four other seniors into battle for the Cavaliers. The quartet includes Walt Peeney, regular left tackle; Paul Anderson, Don France and Jack Kinnamen. The last three named are second string linemen and Kinnamen also kicks the extra points.

Associated Press Likes Eastburg

By Ben French

Harrisburg (AP)—Pennsylvania's schoolboy football teams go after the big ones this weekend — the clashes with long-time rivals.

All across the state there are traditional games on tap for the leaders at the half-way point in the current campaign. These are the games where win-loss records are thrown to the winds and both teams start from scratch.

The AP schoolboy selections, which last week clicked off an 820 average to climb to 768 for the season, is almost certain to take a licking in this weekend's host of close games.

Meadville at Oil City—This one probably will settle the Section Two race with the once-beaten Bulldogs rating an edge over twice-beaten Oil City.

Bradford at Warren—The Owls' only blemish was a 14-13 loss to DuBois while Warren has lost its last two. Bradford should win a close one.

Pottsville at Lebanon—Pottsville's unbeaten record is on the line against once-beaten Lebanon with the host Cedars given a slight edge.

West Scranton at Blakely—the unbeaten invaders must crack once tied Blakely's strong line but they have the power to do it.

Allentown at Phillipsburg, N. J.—Phillipsburg has often upset the Canaries' hopes for an unbeaten season and could again this year. But Allentown is a one-touchdown favorite over the team that tied Bethlehem.

Bethlehem at Reading—The high-riding Red Knights will be on the rebound after being surprised by Williamsport but will know they've been in a ball game with Bethlehem. Reading by a shade.

Haverford at Lower Merion—Haverford will be out to end Lower Merion's 16-game winning streak—longest of the major schools but Lower Merion has the edge.

Other games:

East-Pottstown over Phoenixville; Berwick over Bloomsburg; Swoyersville over Old Forge; Coal Twp. over Blythe Twp.; East Stroudsburg over Stroudsburg; Hazleton over Shamokin; Tamaqua over Nesquehoning; Williamsport over Lancaster; John Harris over York; Harrisburg William Penn over Steelton.

Rizzuto Given Credit For Yankees' World Series Triumph

By Joe Reichler

New York, (AP)—Hardly had the hubbub of the 1951 World Series died down when the time-honored "break-up-the-Yankees" talk started sprouting again.

Maybe they are right this time. Maybe they will break up the world champion Yankees. Joe DiMaggio may make good his threat to retire. Johnny Mize, Bobby Brown and one or two others may have played their last games as Yankees.

Replacements such as Mickey Mantle, Gil McDougald, Jackie Jensen, Bob Cerv, Tom Morgan and others, have been readied to step in for the cut-going veterans. But thus far they have not yet found anyone to even nudge Phil Rizzuto out of his shortstop post.

If ever there was needed proof to show how invaluable Rizzuto has been to the Yankees, it was found in the recent World Series. The mighty mite, playmaker extraordinaire day after day, was the big hero of the Yankees' fourth-teenth championship in 25 years.

When Manager Leo Durocher was asked who was most responsible for beating the Giants, he answered without hesitation: "Rizzuto. He's a double pro."

Credit

When Ed Lopat was being congratulated for his two triumphs over the Giants, the southpaw shook his head and said: "Give all the credit to the Scooter. Without him behind me I don't think I would have won."

Lopat was referring to the four Not a single person, however, among the huge throngs that packed the Polo Grounds and Yankees Stadium for six days, failed to marvel at his fielding wizardry. Yankees' decisive capabilities best.

"Fellows have been asking me how I come to be a winning pitcher with the Yankees when I was just so-so with the Indians," he said. "If a pitcher can't win with the kind of defensive help I've gotten in the five seasons, he shouldn't accept his pay check."

It may have escaped general notice that Rizzuto was the only Yankee to hit safely in every game.
